CHLORODYNE.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is a certain cure in Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa Colics, &c.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases." From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months' severe suffering and when all other remedies had failed."

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.—CAUTION—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle. Sole Manufacturer J. T. Davenport, 33 Great Russell street, Bloomsbury London. The immense demand enables the proprietors to reduce the price; it is now sold in bottles, 1s 1½; 2s 9d; 4s 6d and 11s.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—Vice-Chancellor Sir W Page Wood stated publicly in court that Dr J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to. See the TIMES July 30th, 1864.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—The Right Hon Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J T Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See LANCET, Dec. 31, 1853.

Dr J Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—Extract from MEDICAL TIMES, Jan 12th, 1866—Is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

Dr J Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the best and most certain remedy in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Consumption, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c.

The Necessity for a Change.

Governor Seymour is one of the strangest anomalies of a ruler we have ever known. He professes to entertain the greatest sympathy with and respect for our suffering people; yet he seems to consider anything appertaining to public business in the light of a "bore" that is to be got rid of in as speedy and summary a manner as possible. The least, he thinks, he has to do with business, the better for his comfort, and he really seems to be utterly unfitted for the duties he has undertaken, both by inclination and habit. One would suppose, from the careless, indifferent manner in which he treats the public and their affairs that he is some great nabob whose estate these colonies are, and that he considers it his duty to visit them occasionally, after the manner of an Irish absentee landlord for the purpose of seeing that the property is kept in order and the tenantry in misery. The idea of suggesting a plan for the alleviation of our distress appears never to have exercised his august brain, or if it has, it has been turned over to some subaltern to work into shape and has fallen asleep in the depths of an obtuse intellect. Nero is said to have fiddled while Rome was burning. Governor Seymour does worse. It would be some comfort if he only staid here and fiddled; but at the very time when he ought to be of some use to the country—at a time when were a wise, patriotic and earnest man at the head of the Government, he would set about devising some scheme to cause the sunshine of prosperity to once more fall upon us, His Excellency starts off North for a pleasure excursion to Metlakatlah. He thinks the interests of the tame Indians of Mr Duncan have stronger claims upon his attention than his civilized fellow countrymen who have been confided to his paternal care by an unappreciative Imperial Government. His Excellency does not even "paddle his own canoe" to reach his Indian preserves; he takes care to leave his steam coffin to cover its bottom with barnacles—the colony paying at least $5 for each barnacle—and orders one of Her Majesty's vessels to carry him North. "Perhaps," our information says, "His Excellency will go on to Sitka." We hope he will. If he would stay there and petition to be made Governor, or run for Congress, or go into the fur business, or do any mortal thing rather than come back and pretend—for it is only a pretence—to govern British Columbians, the very children would clap their hands for joy. During Governor Seymour's term of office, we challenge his admirers (if he have any) to place their finger on a single wise or beneficial measure that his superior wisdom has called into being. What little good has been effected the people themselves or their representatives have done. The Administration has been proved an unmitigated failure—a perfect fiasco. If it had only followed in the footsteps of the previous Government it would have done well; but the most it has condescended to do is to wear out the roads that the wisdom and energy of his predecessor made, and clap an export duty on gold dust! There is neither reason nor policy in anything Mr Seymour does. In fact, he does not seem to have any policy. He appears to regard the whole thing as a sort of pleasure trip, in which he is expected to pass five or six years as he best can, with as little trouble to himself as possible—hunting a little, writing a little, junketing a little, and governing a great deal less than either. British Columbia is to him a sort of gentleman's estate, over which he has free licence to roam at his leisure without bestowing a thought as to whence the money that is to keep up all the extravagance and style is to come, and where he is expected to enjoy himself to the full bent of his inclination. The more we consider the strange manner in which we are governed—or, more correctly, not governed at all—the more we are convinced that Governor Seymour looks on all public business as a severe tax on his patience, if not on his mental powers. Instead of remaining in Victoria, or in the out-of-the-way place he has selected as a country residence, and endeavoring to ameliorate our condition, he quietly steps out of the way to avoid hearing complaints of a condition of things that has naturally resulted from the wicked way in which public affairs have been mismanaged. The long and short of the matter is that the Colony is left to take care of itself. It might sink tomorrow in mid-ocean and not a regret would be expressed at its fate by its stoical head provided he and his friends escaped from the wreck with dry feet. The manner in which we are treated is simply monstrous. Our public officers have been unpaid for upwards of five months, and the Treasury is emptied on every steamer day of our gold, which is sent to redeem mainland bonds and pay the interest thereon in London, while not a single public improvement, beyond the Leech River ditch—and that has been sneered at as a work of secondary importance—is under progress. Of course, we know that the bonds and the interest on the loan must be paid; but why is not the Governor here to suggest a remedy for our ills. Where was Governor Douglas in 1859 and 1860, when dark days visited us? Did he go out of the way to avoid a knowledge of the true state of our affairs? On the contrary, he remained at his post, encouraging, directing and advising, and the result was a season of prosperity unexampled in the history of the Colony. Something must be done speedily to awaken the Governor to a sense of his duty, and a memorial to the Home Government, stating our grievances and asking for immediate Confederation, or the appointment of a Governor who will not only feel for us but with us, at a salary within the ability of the Colony to pay, would be the wisest course that could be pursued under existing circumstances.

FUSS OVER BRIGHAM YOUNG.—The Mormon Prophet recently had a grand and imposing reception on his return from a visit to the outside settlements. The Telegraph gives a full account of it from which we copy the following paragraphs:

Consederable interest prevailing throughout the day, and early in the forenoon flags were liberally displayed by the citizens from all the principal stores, as well as from the roofs of all the public buildings in the city, including a huge flag displayed from the top of the new Tabernacle.

At three o'clock a company of cavalry, under the command of Colonel H. P. Kimball, left the city as an escort to the party. They were accompanied by Captain Croxall's and Eardley's bands. Major Huntington's military band was stationed in the city.

At intervals during the afternoon citizens in carriages were continually leaving to join the cortege.

About 4 o'clock the various day and Sabbath schools of the city marched from their respective Wards and began to pour into the State road, where places were assigned them commencing at the "Eagle Gate," and ranging down the road on either side, displaying an immense concourse of bright and happy faces. Each division of scholars were under the charge of their respective teachers, and displayed the banner and mottoes of their respective schools.

A few minutes after 5 the discharge of a cannon announced the appearance of the President. The party was preceded by the cavalry escort, and followed by an interminable line of citizens in carriages. The assembled masses of people and children saluted President Young as he passed. The various Sunday and day schools then passed in procession before the President's residence and were marched home, and the crowds of spectators returned gratified at an opportunity of exhibiting respect and affection to one who has ever lived in the love of his people.

Among other distinguished visitors who went out to welcome the President, we noticed President H. C. Kimball, the Mayor and members of the City Council, with others of our principal civil ecclesiastical authorities.

The appearance of some of the private schools are gratifying, the young ladies and gentlemen comporting in respectability of appearance with any school exhibitions we have ever seen. Upon the banners we observed a variety of mottoes strongly expressive of the feelings of the people on the occasion—among others were the following: 'Long live Brigham Young,' 'The Lion of the Lord,' 'We welcome thee home,' 'Happy are we guided by thee,' 'Holiness to the Lord.' Little children with the motto: 'Zion's future,' and another entitled, 'Our school the hope of the Republic.' Also a banner with a beehive inscribed, 'Hands off, we are armed.'

Soon after the procession entered the city, several ladies came forward and presented bouquets of flowers, which were graciously received. The affair, as a whole, may be noted as the finest welcome ever offered in this city, and coming as it did, spontaneously from the wish of the people, goes to show the steady and constant increase and influence possessed by President Young.

Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 17th.—A very destructive fire broke out about one o'clock on Monday night in a large brick building owned and occupied by Moir & Co., and used as a steam bakery and grist mill. The fire originated in the upper story; the two upper stories were completely destroyed, together with a large portion of the grain, flour and buscuits. The building was insured for thirty-seven thousand dollars. This establishment was the most extensive in the Lower Provinces.

It is reported in Nova Scotia that Dr Tupper, Provincial Secretary will not contest the election in the County of Cumberland, the county he has always represented, but will run for the city of Halifax.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine.—DR. MAGGETT is the founder of a new Medical System Thequan Iarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrum of this day. Extraordinary cures by Maggett's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggett's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggett's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant. There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggett's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggett's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin Maggett's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGETT, 1 Pine street, New York, and all Druggists at 25 cents per box.

Fever and Ague.—Astonishing Cures.—Dr Egbert Simms, formerly of the Medical College, Philadelphia, and now one of the most popular physicians in Minnesota, writes to a friend in New York, that Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills are working wonders in that region, in cases of Fever and Ague, and Bilious Remittent Fever. The following extract from his remarks is published by permission of the gentleman to whom the letter was addressed: "I am not, as you know, much in favor of advertised pills. Most of them are worthless; some dangerous. But Bristol's Sugar coated Pills are an exception. No better family cathartic could be desired. There is nothing in the pharmacopoeia, as far as I am aware, that is equal to them. Nor is this all; the antibilious properties of the pills render them a positively invaluable medicine for the bilious remittent and intermittent fevers so common in this region. I have found them exceedingly efficacious in ague and fever. They are tonics as well as aperient, and may be given with great benefit, in cases where drastic purgatives would be dangerous." They are put up in glass vials, and will keep in any climate. In all cases arising from, or aggravated by impure blood, BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA should be used in connection with the Pills. Sold by druggists everywhere. 515

A Perfume and a Cosmetic.—The surpassing aromatic excellence of Murray and Lanman's Florida Water has caused its qualities, as a cosmetic, to be partially overlooked. It is not only the most refreshing and delightful of perfumes, but as a superficial application for the removal of blemishes on the skin, it is unsurpassed. In tropical climates, where the excessive heat causes annoying eruptions, and every sunbeam carries freckles, tan and sunburn in its train, this soothing toilet water is found exceedingly useful for cosmetic purposes. Its delicious fragrance is also a complete antidote to nervous headache and faintness. ☞ Purchasers are requested to see that the words "FLORIDA WATER, MURRAY AND LANMAN, No. 69 Water street, New York," are stamped in the glass on each bottle. Without this none is genuine. 529

The Responsible Organ.—The stomach is responsible for more evils than were contained in Pandora's Box. Atonic, dyspepsia or simple indigestion, is the first indication, of more than half the diseases enumerated in medical books. Meet it at once with Bristol's Sarsaparilla, the most genial tonic and corrective which the botanic kingdom has yet yielded to chemical science. Invigorate the stomach and gently stimulate its gastric action with this famous restorative. Remember that the digestive apparatus is the primary source of vitality from which the whole body draws its supplies, and that Bristol's Sarsaparilla is a specific for the disorders that affect it. In all diseases affecting the liver, stomach or bowels, Bristol's Vegetable Pills should be used at same time with the Sarsaparilla. 516

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Unparalelled Popularity.—The wonderful cures effected by these unequalled remedies in all parts of the world have won for them their present favor. Both Pills and Ointment are composed of ingredients which purify at the same time that they strengthen. No one can deny that health depends upon pure blood and the natural action of the animal organs. Both objects are effected without risk or danger by Holloway's medicaments, which are as innocent as they are potent. Internal disorders and external blemishes succumb to their power. These remedies, so applicable for the relief of the commonest complaints are no less adequate to deal safely with the most formidable and dangerous diseases which can afflict mankind. 16

CHICAGO, June 10—The Cable has transmitted a long account of the coronation of the Emperor and Empress of Austria as King and Queen of Hungary at Pesth, on June 8th. The coronation took place at Ofen, cross the Danube, with mediavel splendor, and the concluding rites at Pesth—8000 Hungarian and Austrian Nobles, a hundred Diplomatists and a number of strangers witnessed the ceremonies. The Greek Bishops performed the ceremony. The Emperor when anointed wore the ancient robes, shoes, crown and mantle of Stephen, the first Christian King of Hungary. The Empress was anointed under the right armpit; the Emperor took the oath in which he promised to reconquer the ancient rights of Hungary. The despatch says nothing like this has been witnessed for centuries and will probably never be repeated. The ceremony closed by the King riding upon a mound of earth brought from different departments of Hungary, waving his sword to the four points of the compass and solemnly swearing he would defend the Kingdom against the world. This was followed by a grand banquet and illumination at night, the Peers acting as servants at table. The Hungarian Diet voted a hundred thousand ducats as a present to the King and Queen. Ten archdukes were present. A general amnesty for political offences was proclaimed amid excitement and enthusiasm indescribable.

The nobility of Warsaw met on Sunday and resolved to send a deputation to Paris expressing their horror at the recent attempt to kill the Czar.

DR HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties

Invigorate the System

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutricious blood, and nutricious blood a healthy frame. Does this victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system; regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal forces which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthful invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effect, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A Word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged.

Dr Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of females resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangement to which, as a sex, they are subject. DOGS IN COURT—Yesterday some unthinking spectator brought a bouncing dog into the Supreme Court, and the fellow—the dog, not the man—ran around wagging his tail, prancing and snuffing, to the great discomfort of the whole court and the stoppage of the proceedings for several minutes. The Chief Justice ordered the usher to ascertain the owner of the animal and bring him before the Court; but each person applied to protested his entire innocence of standing in the relation of master to the beast, and one gentleman, at whose heels we have often noticed the animal, protested strenuously that he had never so much as heard of him before. The usher finally conducted the dog to the stoop, where, it is to be hoped, the punishment administered was not quite so bootless as the search for the owner. Dogs are very good—in their place; but it is clear that their place is not in the Supreme Court room.

A THROW FOR LIFE.—A singular duel has just taken place at Berlin between a journeyman silversmith and another artisan. The arms selected were a bottle of sulphuric acid. The arrangement was that whichever of the two adversaries threw the lowest with dice should swallow the contents of the fatal phial. Chance favored the silversmith, who immediately poured out a glass of the liquor and handed it to his adversary, who unhesitatingly drank off the liquid; but, to the astonishment of his antagonist, instead of falling senseless, smacked his lips and asked for another glass. The seconds had acted on the sensible idea of substituting arrack for the corrosive fluid. It is hardly necessary to say that the affair terminated in a reconciliation.

NANAIMO—A gentleman named McIlveen, while visiting Douglas Pit, on Thursday, sustained a fracture of the left shoulder and severe internal injuries, by attempting to get out of the cage after it was in motion. The gentleman had entered the cage and given the signal to ascend, but after it had started he endeavored to get out, when he was caught by the roof of the level and thrown violently back.....A man named Freddison, in the employ of Captain Franklyn, has been missed for a week. He is advanced in years, and is supposed to have wandered into the bush, lost his way, and perished.....A party under Samuel Cliffe are about to prospect the South Fork of Nanaimo river for precious metals.

REPORTED DISCOVERY OF GOLD BY INDIANS. The Indians are becoming useful as prospectors. One arrived in town a short time ago reported discovering a vein of pure alabaster; another brings in specimens of copper ore, and on Monday two others came to town with information of the discovery of gold on Kapalina river or creek. This creek empties into Howe's Sound. They had two specimens which they say were got out of quartz, and that there is 'hi-you' of the same sort. One of the pieces is a bright leafy specimen, and the other is in quartz. It is like gold found on Vancouver Island.—Examiner.

DROWNED.—On Monday information reached here that a man name Brown, an employe of the Hudson Bay Company, had been drowned while crossing the slough on his way from the farm to the fort at Langley. An Indian saw him in the water but could render no assistance. The spot where he sank has been marked. His body had not been found.—Examiner.

PIDWELL v. THE HUDSON BAY CO.

SECOND DAY,

WEDNESDAY, June 12th, 1866.

W. A Mouatt, sworn and examined by Mr Ring—I was master of the Labourchere; I had taken the steamer to San Francisco once before the accident; last took her down in March; I sent five compasses to be adjusted, and had them returned just before we started on the voyage when the accident occurred; [witness here described the alteration made in the ship previous to starting for her last voyage;] the compasses were perhaps 20 feet nearer the engines than on the passage down; the newwork extended from aft to square with the front of the pilot house; the first deck 7 ft. 6 in. high, and the pilot house was on top of that deck; the pilot house was seven feet high over the deck; the wheel was in the forward part of the pilot house and the compasses were in the extreme front end of the pilot house; I had two rooms it the same line extending backwards.

His Lordship—What does all this mean? you might as well as ask him if the ship had a keel.

Mr Ring—My Lord, you don't know my case; I want to make the question of magnetic influences plain to the jury.

His Lordship—Well, then, you must put questions in a intelligible way.

Mr Ring—I can't supply intelligence, my Lord. (Laughter)

Examination resumed—The compass in my room was about five feet higher than the compasses in the pilot house; the iron helps to neutralize the magnetic influence of a compass; I checked the iron steering compasses at the wheel; I found nearly half-a point variation in one of the compasses in the pilot house; the pilot house was put square with the beam of the ship; saw how the compasses pointed and then, from the position I was in, saw what bearing Point Bonita was on; by the compass it was the bearing in which it ought to have been [witness took a chart and pointed out the position of Point Bonita]; I left the wharf between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening; cleared the Heads in an hour and a quarter; a mizzling rain was falling and the wind blew stiff until 9, when it fell calm and a very dense fog prevailed; myself, the officer of the watch, and an Indian boy named "Jack," were on watch; "Jack" had been employed by me for four or five years as a lookout; he was the best lookout on the ship; I was steering West nothing to North, and about a ¼ or ½ past 10, the Indian boy reported land; I ran into the pilot house to strike the bell; I was on deck at the time, and the carpenter, the officer of the watch, and the Indian boy were also there; not more than a quarter of a minute after the bell was struck to stop and just as I had rung to back, the ship struck the rock; I saw a loom as I went to the pilot house and struck the bell, the breakers were close alongside: we backed to get her turned round and headed her for clear water; went ahead at full speed with the lead going; we were going in 6 or 8 fathoms with the line and no bottom; sent the carpenter to discover where the water came from, ordered all the pumps to be set on; the best pumps were at the wheel and by the rapid motion of the ship more water was raised by the pumps; we got ahead of the water and made the pumps suck; I felt, then, that the ship was safe, and made short stretches to and fro waiting for daylight or for the fog to clear up; as soon as I saw the Farallones light I pushed for it as hard as I could; the water suddenly commenced to gain on us, and I think there may have been a stone in the broken plank and that it dropped out as we started for shore; the ship ran for half an hour, getting slower and slower, until the water reached the furnaces, when she stopped; we could not use our sails because she would not have sailed, being half full of water; the saloon table was made to ship and unship; had there been no fog the accident would not have happened; soon after the vessel struck I went into the pilot house and found a variation of a point and a-half in one compass, and one point with another compass; the atmosphere may affect a compass; I was afraid to run because of the fog and the variation in the compasses; I had no opportunity of taking an observation; I was anxious to get off from San Francisco, I had a number of men aboard for the Princess Royal who wanted to run away; I had a large number of passengers who were anxious to start; the men for the Princess Royal began knocking me about before I left the wharf; I saw Mrs Pidwell go aboard a boat to leave the ship; I went back to the ship and filled one boat and part of another with luggage.

To a juror—The ship was about three miles from shore when she struck.

Direct examination resumed—I told Mrs Pidwell that I brought one large trunk ashore, and she said she thought it might be hers; I gave her one package that was done up in canvas, and a dress; I told the passengers in general that I had brought some trunks aboard; I afterwards saw the package that I gave her on board the steamer Oregon; it had Mrs Pidwell's name upon it. [Counsel for plaintiff here admitted that the package was returned, and stated that it was not one of those in dispute.] I had a freight clerk on board who would have looked after the luggage had he been asked; did not see Mrs Pidwell coming on board; heard nothing about any trunks coming on board; the Company had agents at San Francisco.

The following copy of the ticket issued by the Company at San Francisco was read:

"Hudson Bay Company's steamship Labouchere.—This ticket will be forfeited if transferred.—Passage from San Francisco to Victoria.—No. 10.—San Francisco,——186.

This ticket entitles Mrs Pidwell to a Cabin Passage from San Francisco to Victoria.—The Company will not be responsible for the maintenance of passengers after arrival at Victoria.— ————, Agent. CHAS. WARREN, Purser. Received $30.

Mr Ring—There is a custom adopted by shipowners at San Francisco as to the carriage of passengers' baggage?

Mr Wood objected to the question.

His Lordship thought the question was immaterial.

Witness—If I give a receipt for it I'm liable; if I do not give a receipt I am not liable: such is the custom at San Francisco.

Cross-examined—I was a master mariner previous to 1850; am 46 years of age, and have been a seafaring man since 1835. [Witness proceeded to detail his career at sea during a series of years.] Came out here as second mate of the bark Vancouver in 1844; in April of the same year was made first mate; in 1849 was master of an American vessel at California; the Mary Adair was the first ship of which I was master in the Company's service; was master of the steamer Enterprise for three seasons; have read the Merchants' Shipping Act through; am aware that there is a section of the Act which says that a ship's compass must be adjusted at stated periods; if they are sent to an optician the requirement of the law is complied with; a wooden ship may possibly disturb its compasses quite as much as an iron steamship; the mass of machinery in a steamship will not necessarily influence a compass; a great many alterations were made in the Labouchere at San Francisco; the steering apparatus was removed 120 feet nearer the bows and forward of the machinery; the steering apparatus was in the pilot-house. [Witness here described the position of certain iron work near the wheel, and the accommodation provided for passengers; before starting I thought it was necessary to see that if my compasses were right, but I can't say that I thought so, because of the alteration; I did not take any such precaution before I started from the wharf; I had not all my sails bent before I sailed, only the forestaysail and trysail; the square sails were not bent, because the yards were on deck; the maintrysail was not set from fear of fire; on the way down I issued orders to have a lead on each paddle-box; the deep sea-lead I saw nothing of; I saw the hand leads hanging up in the rooms before we started; I took my bearings when I was just inside of Point Bonita. [The exact position of the ship when the bearings were taken was pointed out on the chart by the witness.] I judged of my position simply by my eye; this was the only precaution I took to see if my compasses were correct; I found they were correct by adopting this course; the telltale compass in my room was the best instrument of the three; they were all good alike, only mine was the best [laughter.] After passing the Golden Gate I steered S W by W for half-an-hour, then W, nothing to N, to clear Point Reyes; the pilots tell sailing vessels to steer W ¼ N; I don't know what the course is the pilots give steamers; I don't know that there is any extraordinary danger in going into San Francisco which you might not avoid if you had a chance; had the compasses been correct, I could not by any possibility have struck on Point Reyes if the weather had been clear; the fog was the sole cause of my going on shore; don't know that I went ashore on Point Reyes; I have an idea that I went ashore west of Drake Bay; I have doubts that I went on Point Reyes; I believe I did strike there, but I don't know.

To the Court—It has been presumed that I struck on Point Reyes, I don't know that I did.

Examination resumed—In the morning I found myself opposite Point Reyes and equally opposite the Farallones; the fact of my compasses being out 3¼ points was not the cause of my going ashore.

To the Court—The two compasses I was steering by I think were not wrong; one of the three compasses was wrong; I do not think I went ashore because the one compass was out.

His Lordship—Now, Mr Solicitor General, you are at liberty to ask the witness any questions you may think fit connected with the previous examination before the Royal Commission. There is a direct contradiction; I have my notes before me.

The Court here suggested a recess of ten minutes to enable Capt. Mouat to refresh his memory.

Upon the reassembling of the Court, the Solicitor General proceeded to ask whether Capt. Mouat had not sworn, on the 4th of May, 1866, differently from what he had done to-day.

Mr Ring objected, but the Court decided the question to be relevant.

The examination of Capt. Mouat by the Solicitor General was then resumed.

The Solicitor-General—Do you recollect, before the Commission, attributing the loss of the vessel to the variation of the compass, caused by the magnetic influence of the iron?

Witness—Yes; but from other circumstances that have come to my knowledge I have changed my mind.

To the Court—I also said that if I had swung my vessel I should have detected the variation, and that I attributed the loss of the vessel to the variation; I also said that the compasses must have been out at least 3¼ points, but I adopted another man's idea at that time, and have now discarded it. There is a current setting on the shore from the north, with a southwest wind, and I did say that I believed it was on Point Reyes that I got ashore, supposing my compasses had been correct; it is as likely that I would be on Farallones as on Point Reyes; I took Mr Townsend's word for it that there must have been 3¼ points difference; I did not lay the courses off on the chart, he did.

To the Solicitor General—I cannot tell what to attribute the loss to; I did compare one steering compass immediately after she struck with another compass further aft, and found a deviation.

The Counsel for the defence accepted His Lordship's suggestion, that the former evidence given by Capt. Mouat, as taken down by the Bench, be used. His Lordship stated that, as well as he could recollect, the published statement given in the papers were very correct, but the Judge's notes were legal. It would save a great deal of time, and Capt. Mouat would be able to correct or add to his evidence at that time given. The evidence was then read over by His Lordship to the jury. The loss of the vessel at that time Capt. Mouat attributed to the deviation of the compasses, arising from the quantity of iron introduced during the alterations. I now doubt that. After the reading of the evidence given at the time of the enquiry, instituted by the Government last year Mr McGrath, a sailing master from the Royal Navy, demonstrated from a chart of San Francisco harbor, to His Lordship, certain points connected with the disaster.

By the Solicitor General—In comparing the port steering compass with the cabin compass I found a point and a half difference after she struck; there was half a point difference between port and starboard before striking; after I found a point and a half difference, I had no reason to think that the steering compasses were incorrect; we steered by the port compass; I could not tell which compass to believe; I expressed to persons standing by at the time of the accident, that there is where the mistake is, there is a point and a half difference in the compasses; had I found the difference half an hour earlier I don't know what I could have done; I never before had any fault to find with her compasses; It did not occur to me to shift my compasses to the old place in order to see if the alteration was the cause of the accident by causing the deviation in the compasses.

At this stage His Lordship announced that the sailing master showed from the chart that a point and a half would just take the vessel off Point Reyes.

To the Court—By taking a solar or lunar observation as well as by swinging the ship, the correctness of the compasses could be ascertained; there are other modes, for instance, comparing a number of compasses.

To Mr Wood—I think I am familiar with the manner of swinging a ship; I never saw it done; don't know how long it would take such a ship as the Labouchere; kedging is one way of swinging a ship; atmospheric causes have an effect on compasses; I remember snow alone varied my compasses and led me on a rock in Puget Sound; I am positive that a fog makes a compass more sluggish than it would otherwise be; I never heard that it would have an effect on the bearing; I believe that currents have an effect of bringing ships ashore; I never studied the currents; I saw nothing to remark about the lookout; Mr Smith was a vigilant man; I am sure he was there from about 8 p. m.; I can't recollect a minute when Smith was away; I think it a safe thing to trust the vessel to the Indian Jack: he was trustworthy, had presence of mind and courage; it did not occur to me to go the opposite way back to San Francisco, and so save the ship, because I doubted the compasses; it did not occur to use my deep sea lead, because we were going full speed; to go slow would fill the ship with water; my pumps sucked afterwards; I had reason to believe I was in forty fathoms of water, and for that reason it did not occur to me to use my lead; until the pumps sucked I did not consider myself in danger; I did think there was danger all along; I recollect having attention called to a light at sea; I swear Mr Chambers said there was a light, addressing some one else; I saw a light about four o'clock; at the time I saw the ship I had doubts as to where I was; I did not go on board, because I saw the land, and was going towards it; no one said it was advisable to communicate with the ship; I thought I recognized Point Reyes, and made for it, because the ship was making water fast; I did not avoid a ship because I would have had to pay half pilotage; I know the difference between a sailing ship and a pilot boat; if I did say anything, it would have been, I don't want a pilot, because I would have to pay pilotage; the goods of Mrs Pidwell came ashore in a boat; I helped to take a box on shore which I supposed was Mrs Pidwell's; I put them on Point Reyes, which was the last I saw of them; I might have been able to carry the box to the top of the Point; I did not stay there long enough to know what became of the goods, except by hearsay; I never sent anyone to fetch them; Mrs Pidwell was on top of the hill; only that which came into my own possession; I have not heard of anything being recorded; on my solemn oath I can't say the cause of the accident.

To Mr Ring—I never swung my ship; it was never pointed out as a duty; I know of no maritime rule making it imperative to swing a ship; swinging is one means of adjusting compasses; witness stated several methods which are used for detecting errors in the compasses; I used the means best, as I thought, to adjust my compasses; the mere sounding by the deep sea lead would not be the means of ascertaining my position or of finding my way back to San Francisco; up to the present moment I can't say in which compass was the error; assuming there was a pilot boat there it would take some time to take me; at the time my ship was making water very fast. [In connection with evidence as to the adjusting of the compasses, His Lordship referred to the 301st section of the Merchant's Shipping Act, and asked witness as a master mariner did he think it his duty to ascertain if there was local attraction affecting the compasses, and if found to exist, to have it neutralized?] I don't consider it my duty except if I found it I would correct it; my ship was not surveyed at my request; I mean I don't know; I never had a copy of the regulations issued by the Board of Trade.

To Mr Ring—There is no British surveyor who files certificates in San Francisco; in my judgment I took steps to adjust my compasses; the magnetic condition of a ship is changed as she moves on; the book states that it is absolutely dangerous to place too much reliance upon the swinging of a ship; the most effectual way of guarding against local attraction is to raise the compasses above the deck of the vessel; I could have saved the ship had it not been for the fog.

To a juror—I had alterations made for carrying passengers as in the California steamers; I had an Indian lookout and my second mate; he was on the land side and the Indian forward.

James Smith, sworn, and examined by Mr Walker—I was second mate on the Labouchere; I have been 33 years at sea; the compasses of the Labouchere were sent ashore to be adjusted; I have been mostly in wooden ships; never saw any of them swung to adjust the compasses; I have sailed from the London docks and there is only the Victoria dock where ships can be swung; I was on the starboard side (from 8 p.m.) of the ship when she struck; it was thick and foggy and very dark; I could see only about 100 yards when she struck; I was keeping a sharp lookout; kept my eye on the Indian boy as well; Capt Mouat was on the port side of the hurricane deck; the boy had the name of being the best night lookout; I knew him about 3 months; he first gave the alarm, being 50 feet further forward than I; I kept my eye on the man at the helm; the course given was West nothing to the North; this was at 8 o'clock, which was continued until the accident; the helmsman was on the port side; there was a compass on that side; the pumps were in order after the accident, the engine pumps and the hand pump; the engine pumps sucked for a little time; the weather still continued thick and foggy up to close on daylight; the vessel was kept running all night; in my judgment there was no other course to follow; I was on the steamer before the alterations were made; we lessened the amount of iron about the smoke stack; there was about as much iron put in as was taken out; there was an iron chain around the wheel before the alterations; after the alterations the amount of iron there was diminished; the only extra iron was the connecting rods under the deck.

Cross-examined by Mr Wood—I have been a quartermaster in an iron ship; have been in wooden steamers; came from England in the Labouchere; don't think the Labouchere was swung in London; came out before the mast; never heard any complaints of the compass; am employed by the H. B. Co. on the wharf at present; there is a regular place for swinging ships at Greenwich; an iron ship should be swung before going to sea; I don't think it necessary to swing a wooden steamship; I did not consider it necessary to do anything more than Captain Mouat did; I was not present when Captain Mouat was taking an observation of Point Bonita; before starting I never saw great confusion on board; the workmen were out of the ship about half an hour before starting; I think Captain Mouat did perfectly right; I attribute the accident entirely to the weather; the compasses may have been wrong; I am not acquainted sufficiently with the coast to know if the course steered was correct; I never gave an opinion on this case before because I was in California; there was nothing that Captain Mouat did but what I would have done.

To Mr Walker—If he tried to find his way back by the lead the water would have gained on the pumps; had there been no fog there would have been no difficulty in getting back and saving the cargo; I was not on board the Labouchere in England until one or two months before she left; had she been swung I think I should have known it; I think I was absent from her about three days when she was on her trial trip; I don't know how she headed while being built.

Capt Thos. Martin, examined by Mr Walker—Am master mariner; been 35 years to sea; have a Board of Trade certificate [produced same]; renewed 1851—got it in 1848; never swung vessels; to test compasses I would generally take observations; never saw a vessel swung: it is not usual in wooden ships; it is in iron ships; I have been chief officer on board the iron steamer Vesta; she was not swung before leaving London; I know of no Board of Trade regulations requiring the swinging of ships; I have carried a cargo of iron and found observations at sea sufficient to correct my compasses; generally carried but one.

By Mr McCreight—There was no rule to swing iron ships in London that I know of; I believe that an optician fixes a compass sufficiently to steer by; never did more than shift the compasses; have been in the H. B. Co.'s service about 18 months ago; I would have my deep sea line ready before leaving shore; to bend sails depends on circumstances; taking an observation by the eye at Point Bonita may or may not have been a sufficient means of testing the compasses; I would have taken a different method in testing.

To the Bench—I might have moved a compass to the maintop and compared it with the compasses below; if they differed I would trust to the one aloft until I got observations.

By Mr McCreight—I could not trust the cabin compass before testing its accuracy.

By Mr Walker—Providing the steering gear had not been removed I would not consider it necessary in going out of port to take a compass to the masthead; have taken a cargo of iron from London to Madrid.

Capt. Hedstrom, of British ship Vortigern, sworn—Have been a master mariner since 1846; never swung a merchant ship under my charge; have carried a cargo of iron twice without accident; compared the compass on board and if I do not find more than half a point difference feel I can trust them until I get an observation; remember once on the coast of Norway, when I had a cargo of iron, and when there was a vivid Aurora Borealis, there was a great variation; we had no guide of the compass at the time, they seemed to have lost their magnetism; I could depend on them before and a few hours afterwards; have sailed out of San Francisco harbor; believe the nature of the land is volcanic.

Cross-examined by Mr Wood—When coming out of San Francisco I nearly lost my vessel; I noticed the ship out of its proper place, but whether it was caused by the currents or the variation of the compass I could not tell; I had to anchor near Point Reyes to save my vessel from going on the rocks.

To the Court—I don't think the alterations on the Labouchere caused any material variation in the compass; if I had had alterations made in my ship, such as were made in the Labouchere, I should not consider it prudent to put to sea without submitting my compasses to some test; I should place my compass outside of the attraction of the iron, and should place my ship's head where there was no local attraction and then change it to the opposite side.

To the Solicitor General—I have no experience, by practice, as an officer of a steamship; my idea of adjustment is not the same as Capt. Mouat's; I should not content myself with sending the compasses to an optician; it could have nothing to do with adjusting for local attraction; do not think the alterations in the Labouchere caused any more local attraction than before; never knew a fog to affect a compass. The witness was proceeding to give a detailed account of the place in which he found his ship near Point Reyes, when His Lordship interrupted, saying that the evidence must be rejected, because the voyage of the ship Vortigern was not being inquired into.

Counsel for defence objected, and asked that a note be taken of their objection.

Capt. Hedstrom then repeated the evidence given in his direct examination with regard to finding himself, from some unknown cause, nearly on the rocks at Point Reyes. The Court here adjourned until 10 o'clock on Thursday morning.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY ENlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

The Tariff of Charges

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the mining and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

One eighth of one per cent (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

For Assaying Deposits for Unparted Silver Bars.

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

For Coining Gold.

This charge will be the same as at the mint—a half one per cent—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

Charges at U. S. Branch Mint.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that Institution:

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 750½@850 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 850½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.
The charge for coinage is one-half of one per cent, and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.
Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ½ of one per cent—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been posited for coinage:
839 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREAUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE, OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

CURES AND COMFORT FOR THE BED-RIDDEN.

—BY—

Holloway's Ointment.

This wonderful Ointment acts like magic in relieving and curing old sores, wounds, bad legs, ulcers and eruptions of the skin; when rubbed on the surface it penetrates and purifies each tissue on its passage, and exerts the most wholesome influence over the internal structures It heals by cleansing all animal fluids with which it comes in contact, and thereby promotes a sound and permanent cure.

Gout and Rheumatism.

To sufferers from the racking pains of Rheumatism and Gout this ointment will prove invaluable. After fomentation with warm water the soothing action of this Ointment is most remarkable; it seems at once to lesson inflamation, ease pain, reduce the swelling, restore natural circulation, and expels the disease. For the above complaints Holloway's Ointment and Pills are infallible specifics.

Diptheria, Bronchitis, Sore Throats, Coughs and Colds.

This class of diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment, three times a day, upon the throat, chest and back of the patient. It will soon penetrate and give immediate relief. In all stages of Influenza, Colds and Bronchitis, this treatment may be followed with efficiency and safety—indeed, it has never been known to fail.

All Varieties of Skin Diseases, Scrofula and Scurvy.

This Ointment is a certain cure for Ringworm, Scurvy Scrofula or King's Evil, and the most inveterate skin diseases to which the human race is subject. They cannot be treated with a safer or more speedy remedy than Holloway's Ointment, assisted by his celebrated Pills, which act so powerfully on the constitution and so purify the blood that these disorders are completely eradicated from the system, and a lasting cure obtained

Dropsical Swellings.

Beware of this dangerous and stealthy complaint which frequently creeps upon us by slight squeamishness or trifling jaundice, of which little or no notice is taken until the legs begin to swell. The cause of the evil must be looked for in the liver and stomach, therefore set to work earnestly by taking Holloway's famous Pills according to the printed instructions and rubbing the Ointment very effectively over the pit of the stomach and right side where those organs lie. Most dropsical cases will readily yield to the combined influence of the Ointment and Pills.

Piles, Fistulas, and Internal Inflammation.

These complaints are most distressing to both body and mind, false delicacy concealing them from the knowledge of the most intimate friends. Persons suffer for years from Piles and similar complaints when they might use Holloway's Ointment with instant relief, and effect their own cure without the annoyance of explaining their ailment to anyone Disorders of the Kidneys, Stone and Gravel.

Are immediately relieved and ultimately cured if this Ointment be well rubbed twice a day, into the small of the back, over the regions of the kidneys to which it will gradually penetrate and in almost every case give immediate relief; but perseverance will be necessary to effect a thorough cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs,	Cancers,	Scalds,
Bad Breasts,	Contracted and	Sore Nipples,
Burns,	Stiff Joints,	Sore Throats,
Bunions	Elephantiasis,	Skin Diseases

THE GRAND PROMOTERS OF HEALTH.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

The grand secret of attaining happiness is to secure good health, without which life is stripped of all its pleasures, The first irregularity of any function should be checked and set right by appropriate doses of these fine purifying Pills, which strengthen the system by thoroughly cleansing the blood from all impurities. They balance disordered action, remove the cause of disturbance and restore its normal and natural power to every organ, without inconvenience, pain or any other drawback

Derangement of the Bowels, Liver and Stomach Complaints.

This medicine is so well known in every part of the world, and the cures effected by its use are so wonderful as to astonish every one. Its pre-eminence as a remedy for billious and liver complaints and derangements of the stomach and bowels, is no longer a matter of dispute or doubt. In these diseases the beneficial effects of Holloway's invaluable Pills are so permanent and extensive that the whole system is renovated, the organs of digestion strengthened, and full and easy assimilation promoted, so that both physical and moral energy are increased,

Determination of Blood to the Head.

This is generally occasioned by some irregularity of stomach and bowels, which, if not quickly attended to, frequently terminates fatally. A few doses of these famous Pills never fail to give tone to the stomach regularity to the secretions, and purity to the fluids. Vertigo dimness of sight and other indications of approaching apoplexy, are entirely dissipated by a course of this admirable medicine.

The Female's Best Friend

For all debilitating disorders peculiar to the sex and in every contingency perilous to the life of women, youthful or aged, married or single, this mild but speedy remedy is recommended with friendly earnestness. It will correct all functional derangements to which they are subject.

Scrofula and all Skin Diseases.

For all skin diseases, however inveterate, these medicines are a sovereign remedy While the Pills act upon the blood, which they purify, the ointment passes through the pores of the skin, and cleanses every structure, as water saturates the soil or as salt penetrates meat. The whole physical machinery is thus rendered healthy, regular and vigorous Coughs, Colds and Asthmas.

No medicine will cure colds of long duration or such as are settled upon the chest so quickly as these famous Pills. Even in cases where the first stage of asthmas has appeared these Pills may be relied on as a certain and never failing remedy, particularly if the Ointment be simultaneously well rubbed into the chest and throat night and morning.

Indigestion—Billious Headache.

These complaints may sometimes be considered trifling but it should be borne in mind that by inattention and neglect, they often end most seriously. Give early thought to a deranged stomach take Holloway's Pills, rub his celebrated Ointment over the pit of the stomach, and you will shortly perceive a change for the better in your digestion, spirits, appetite, strength and energy. The improvement, though it may be gradual will be thorough and lasting.

A GREAT MANY SIDE HITS ARE being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be long imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are in same sized bottle and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.

The Plantation Bitters purify, strengthen and invigorate
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters but above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate female and mothers.

The original quality and high character of these drugs will be sustained under every and all circumstances they have already obtained a sale in every town, village, parish and hamlet among civilized nations. Base imitators try to come as near our name and style as they can, and because a good article cannot be sold as low as a poor one, they find some support from parties who do not care what they sell. "GENTLEMEN:—"I had a negro man worth $1 200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."

J. L. DOWNING.

Montgomery, Ala. June 17th, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensible article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic."

J. W. HEWITT

Foreman for American, Wells Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced to use your celebrated Mustang Liniment."

ED SEELY

Gloucester, Mass. August 1; 1865.

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in a shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery-men and planters should always have it on hand Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped steel-plated engravings, bearing the signature of G. Wm Westbrook, Chemist, and the private U. S. stamp Demas Barnes & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Kathairon.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon permaturely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car-load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Flea Powder

Lyon's Magnetic Insect Powder is instant death to Fleas, Ticks, Roaches, and everything of the insect species. It is one of the few articles that can be relied upon, and for a mere two bits we can save the bites and bills of these little pests. None is genuine unless signed by E. Lyon, and bearing the private stamp of Demas Barnes & Co., New York.
